/Elizabeth M. Cole/ Primary Examiner, Art Unit 1771 Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: There is no support for the claimed range in the specification. The specification provides only a minimum value, not a maximum value and does not define "breathable" in terms of a maximum value. Further, with regard to the art rejection, Albertone teaches that the MYTR is a result effective variable which can be determined by controlling factors such as the thickness of the layers and/or the the chain length of the polymer. With regard to the ability of the film and the glass fabric to be bonded, Albertone teaches the breathable film can be bonded to any fabric and WO '668 teaches that both mineral and synthetic fibers can be used as the fabric layer in such laminates.
